Federation Executive Lauds Civic Bodies

Civic organizations were praised by E. F. Colladay, president of the Federation of Citizens' Associations, in an address before the Mid-City Citizens' Association last night. He said that associations reflect public opinion and point the way for Congress and the municipal authorities in the matter of public improvements.

The Congress of the D. A. R. brought a number of league members to the Capital, among them being Mrs. Dora Harvey Devlin, of Philadelphia, who has in press a wonderful Journal of her grandmother, written in 1808, and full of the local color of those stirring times. Mrs. Amanda Zander, correspondent of the Columbus, (Neb.) Journal also attended the D. A. R., as did Mrs. Marion Longfellow, niece of the poet, and herself a well-known writer and translator, and a former president of the league, but now of Boston.
